Hard-ware, and a good deal of it, comes to the clothes that are washed without Pearline. It's spelled differently, but it gets there just the same. Not with Pearline, though. The rub, rub, rub that makes all the hard wear and the hard work is left out. Pearline washes without it. Practically, it washes without you, and without any of the troubles, drawbacks and losses that you want to avoid. But you can always depend upon three things that Pearline washes with. These are ease, safety and profit.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 328 JAMES PYLE, New York.

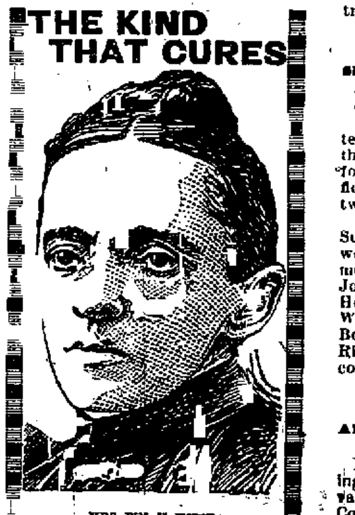
THE KIND THAT CURES



MRS. WM. H. HUNT, Readfield, Me.

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIAL WAS SENT US BY H. NOEL STEEVES, THE WELL-KNOWN MERCHANT, OF HALLOWELL, MAINE.

DANA SARSAPARILLA CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—I have had Liver, Heart and Stomach Troubles for years, and have had Gastric Fever several times. I have often had a bad attack of Liver and Heart Trouble; last December I had a very severe attack and rapidly grew worse, although I was treated with the usual remedies. I was very weak and had distressed spells with my heart several times a day. My side over the liver was enlarged and very sore. At this time I was presented with a bottle of

DANA'S SARSAPARILLA

After using one-half the bottle I felt much better, but was very constipated and very nervous. I used DANA'S PILLS in connection with the SARSAPARILLA. After taking eight bottles my side is well, and my stomach has not been so well for years. I consider DANA'S SARSAPARILLA and PILLS a great blessing to the afflicted. Several of my friends have derived great benefit from their use. Very gratefully yours, Readfield, Me. MRS. WM. H. HUNT.

E. M. METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Interesting Exercises at Machias.

MACHIAS, April 22. The East Maine Conference and the citizens of Machias tendered a reception last evening to Bishop Ninde. McCalee's Orchestra furnished music and Chaplain Tribou, of the U. S. navy, presided, assisted by Rev. E. M. Boynton, of Bucksport. George W. Drisko made the opening address, welcoming the Conference and introducing the Bishop, who received pleasing recognition by the five hundred people present. His response was touching, so feelingly declaring his faith in the love of the Master and the reciprocal sentiment expressed by the followers of Christ in the home conferences and all meetings of foreign lands. The evening was typical of good will and glad tidings by the visitors and Machias homes. Saturday forenoon the exercises were mainly routine work of the Conference.

FINANCIAL MATTERS.

Government Meets all Demands in Gold Friday.

NEW YORK, April 22. Calmer air pervaded the subtreasury and its neighborhood this forenoon. The positive knowledge that the government had met all demands in gold yesterday, that there had been no discrimination between treasury notes and greenbacks, and the apparently firm belief that that course had been adopted in obedience to the wish of President Cleveland, in pursuance of the fixed policy of the government to maintain a parity between gold and silver, evidently had a soothing effect and there was a good deal less sensational talk than there was yesterday.

This also was partly due to the fact that gold is not, as a rule, drawn on Saturdays for shipment, although there was an exception even to that rule to-day. At half past ten o'clock it was stated at the subtreasury that $700,000 in gold had been ordered to-day. As an offset to this, however, it was said that it was known that $100,000 in gold was going to be sent into the sub-treasury. There were also rumors that some of the gold taken yesterday might be returned to the treasury on Monday if the situation should be still improved. The actual condition of the United States Treasury could not be accurately stated here this morning because it was not known how much had been paid out or received at other sub-treasuries.

Secretary Carlisle Delighted.

WASHINGTON, April 22. The gold reserve depleted yesterday is intact to-day, offers aggregating nearly $4,000,000 having been received and accepted by the Secretary this morning. Secretary Carlisle was feeling quite good over the fact that the offers aggregated a sufficient amount to make the gold reserve intact and leave a little free gold in the treasury.

A TEST CASE.

Suit Brought Against the American Oyster Company.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22. A suit for heavy damages has been brought against the American Oyster Company, which is working beds in West Haven, and is supposed to hail from Maine, by Attorney W. F. Ely, in behalf of Ernest Ball and others. A few years ago the American Oyster Company published the old claim which the plaintiffs allege has been worked by them for more than three years. Last Monday the American Oyster Company began dredging for the first time and as soon as the steamer returned to its deck it was attached, along with other property belonging to the company. All the leading oyster growers of this section have combined and propose to make a test case of this suit.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Small Boat Sighted—May be from the Ill-Fated Naronic.

LONDON, April 22. A despatch from Ymuiden, Holland, states that the fishing boat that arrived there reports having seen adrift in latitude 56 north, longitude 5° east, a boat, which had painted on its side a name which, as far as could be made out, read "Noran." In the boat were four dead men, their bodies being tied to the seats. A high sea was running at the time the boat was sighted, and this prevented the fishing vessel from running close to the drifting boat. It is conjectured here that this small boat came from the ill-fated Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool for New York on February 11, last, and was never heard from. No date is given on which the boat was seen. The position where the boat was sighted is a little to the westward of the middle of North Sea.

Further Intelligence.

LONDON, April 22. The vessel Cameo, which arrived at Newcastle today, reports having picked up in the North Sea a boat containing the bodies of five men. This was doubtless the boat reported to have been sighted by a fishing boat that arrived at Ymuiden. The supposition that the boat belonged to the Naronic proves to have been without basis. It is now known that it came from the Noranside, a coasting vessel, which sailed from Blyth April 11th for Neufahrwasse.

Opposition to the Home Rule Bill—Hundreds of Delegates Arrive from Ireland to Attend a Meeting.

LONDON, April 22. Seven hundred delegates from Ireland arrived in London, to-day, to attend the meeting in Albert Hall in opposition to the Irish Home Rule. Delegates wore favors of orange and green. DUBLIN, April 22. A body of Nationalists in Armagh, who were celebrating, this morning, the passage of the Home Rule bill in the House of Commons, collided with a crowd of Unionists who were making a counter demonstration. A number of shots were exchanged and several persons were injured. Further rioting is expected. At Belfast, this morning, 1,000 from Queen's Island Ship Yard marched through the streets singing the National anthem. Passing through a Nationalist quarter a fight arose between the two factions. A strong force of police were called to quell the disorder. Several arrests were made.

ODD THINGS IN THE BELL.

All to be Melted to Ring Out Liberty's Praises.

Relics of the wars which have established this country upon its present sound basis and other relics of interest, value and importance from intervening periods began arriving in Troy some weeks ago. The relics, composed of gold, silver, copper, tin and nickel, are on May 1 to be melted and poured into a big mold; from this mold the cold metal will be taken in the form of a bell, and this bell will be shipped to the World's Columbian Exposition and there rung in the name of liberty.

This will be its purpose elsewhere until time orders it otherwise. From Chicago it will be removed, at the close of the Exposition, to Washington, D. C., its headquarters. Its custodians will be the National Committee of the Revolution. From Washington it will be sent to one after another of the patriotic gatherings as they occur from time to time in different parts of the country.

A few of these relics have by mistake been addressed to New York. They began arriving here ten days ago, and are now in a strong room of the Liberty National Bank, in charge of W. R. McDowell, of Newark, of the Columbian Liberty Bell Committee. They will be boxed up to-day and shipped to Troy.

Every color, every creed, every class, has contributed to the sum total of this patriotic pile, and when the big bell shall commence to wag its musical tongue it will hold in its curved body ancient coins, smaller bells of all kinds, gold chains, jewelry of all descriptions, swords, cannon balls, spurs, metal buttons, bullets, pieces of cannon and specimens of every metal article of household use.

They are mainly of historic value, though a few persons who seem to think anything will do if it is of the desired metal, have sent a few sacks full of modern coins, prominent among them the interesting penny of daily circulation. To some of the relics are attached pathetic letters from fathers, mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts. North and South have joined hands in this movement. Sectionalism apparently has no place in the minds of the donors.

Senor Romero, the Mexican Minister to Washington, sends four Mexican dollars of recent date, in memory of the great Juarez and three other Mexican patriots.

Mr. McDowell displays a peculiar looking piece of lead. He says it is composed of a Federal and Confederate bullet which, going at the same speed, met in midair and flattened together in the form of a double clover leaf. The Misses Rankin, of Newburg, N. Y., send a copy brazier used in Washington's headquarters in Newburg.

A silver fruit knife with which the gentle Quakeress, Lucretia Mott, pared the great American apple, lifted the skin from the tropical orange and dissected the downy peach, will go into the melting pot. Miss Ellen Mecum, chapter regent for Salem, N. J., sends some filings from an heirloom sword. It is a genuine Ferrara blade, 460 years old, silver hilted, and was used by her great-grandfather, Colonel Samuel Dick, M. D., in the French and Indian war, was at the capture of Quebec and in the Revolutionary war at the battles of Trenton and Monmouth.

Some of the relics are ancient indeed. The one whose hair is perhaps the grayest is a native copper kettle hammered by an Indian who painted his face and kicked his wife long before Columbus ever thought of calling on him. A silver spoon two hundred years old which Mary Wood, of Easton, Washington County, says was used by her great-great-great-grandmother, is another curiosity.

The cost of casting the bell will be $6,500 and its weight will be 13,000 pounds.

Winn News.

Our correspondent writes: The Penobscot river opposite Winn Village became clear of ice the first of the present week, though up by the islands and below it has in spots been open for a fortnight.

Some very good sledding for a short time has been afforded by the snow storms since April 15. At the present writing a cold storm of snow and sleet is covering the ground.

Through the rain, snow, sleet, and occasionally a sunny day, the roads are very bad, and deep with mud, requiring some of the teams with railroad ties or potatoes or other exports to have six horses to take them through the mud.

Rev. Mr. Hudson is expected back in June to officiate at the Episcopal church.

I hear of no movement as yet looking to the building of the bridge and improvement of the Winn water power.

Most of the schools were set in operation April 10 by M. F. Scott, Supervisor of Schools.

The Free High School in the village is taught by Fred Hayes, of Foxcroft.

A. J. Lee and Leslie Falconer occupy the store formerly run by George Falconer, whose wife, Clara C., died April 12, aged sixty years.

Large quantities of railroad ties are in the vicinity of the depot awaiting transportation, and cars loaded with them are sent daily from here.

Fatal Injuries and Other Serious Accidents.

Narrow Escape from Burning Building, and Other Notes.

Aroostook.

The buildings of Augustus Whittier, at Caribou, were destroyed by fire the other night. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lantern in the barn. He saved all his stock in the barn. His family escaped in their night clothes. A half-barrel of flour, a small amount of bedding and an organ were saved. Insured for $900.

Cumberland.

The fight over the Fayerweather millions in the New York courts, which has been dragging along for several years, enriching the lawyers, is at last ended, and Bowdoin college will doubtless come into possession of its handsome inheritance very soon, together with the fifty-one other colleges and institutions that were beneficiaries under the will. The disputants of the will have given up the fight and the case has been dismissed without a trial.

Mr. John McDonough, who fell into the hold of the steamer Warwick at Portland, Monday night, died from the effects of his injuries.

Waldo.

Thursday evening was a happy one for those who have the good of Unity at heart. A ball and supper were given in the new creamery, which is to be opened for business May 1st. This new and important business industry promises well for the good of the farmers of the vicinity. It is known as the Crystal Spring Creamery and is to be operated by the Elgin Butter System Company, of Portland. This company opened a small factory at Walnut Hill last August to test the system and sold it out. Now they have commenced the erection of factories in different parts of the State. The one just completed here is the first one of the series. The building is 44x52 and the capacity is for one thousand cans. If the right stock is secured the product ought to be upwards of five thousand pounds per week.

Washington.

A Calais exchange gets real "sarcasm" as follows: There appears to be no foundation for the report that the electric railway, which is to be in working order in this city by the 4th of July, is to run on gold rails and be equipped with $10,000 Pullman cars.

The Calais mine, which attracted so much attention at the close of last season, will, from present advices, be developed by a strong company, in which English capitalists will be represented. It was discovered by Mr. F. H. Hall.

Mrs. Padelford, wife of Rev. A. J. Padelford, of the Calais Baptist church, died Thursday morning of apoplexy.

The general merchandise store and stock of T. W. Allan & Son, at Dennysville, were burned Wednesday night. The loss was $12,000 and was insured for $6,000. It was probably incendiary.

York.

The much-talked-of prisoner known as Ralph Templeton, who is said to have been a millionaire's runaway son, made good his escape in Biddeford from the officer who had him in charge, on Thursday. It seems that he has been allowed considerable liberty having been frequently seen on the street with his keeper, and of course he improved his chances. His wife is left in Biddeford.

REHABILITATION.

Stockholders' Meeting of the Atkinson Company.—Detailed Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Atkinson House Furnishing Company took place Thursday afternoon at the Washington Street store of B. A. Atkinson & Co., in Boston. Although the meeting would have to be held at Portland to be a legal one in action taken, yet there was a very large number of the several hundred stockholders present, many of whom had come from Maine and other States to attend.

President Atkinson had charge of the meeting. He called to order, and Mr. Libby, one of the assignees, read the statement of assets and liabilities as they—the assignees—had found them. He first stated that the combination of the Atkinson House Furnishing Company and the Boston stores of B. A. Atkinson & Co. had taken place on the 9th of February. The assignment was made about a month later, the assignees taking possession the 13th of March.

Commencing with a statement of the assets, Mr. Libby spoke of that class considered as merchandise and store fixtures, the merchandise being taken at invoice prices. This amount at the Portland end, including its branches, is $361,069.21. For the Boston store, the amount is $157,684.55, with the addition of $6,556.03 at the Shawmut Avenue store. The leases are taken in two sets—the pledged and the unpledged. The pledged leases amount: For the Portland end, $142,389.41; for the Washington Street store, $484,559.10; for the Shawmut Avenue store, $61,500.78. This is a total of $688,449.29.

The unpledged leases amount to $55,094.93 for the Portland end, $41,290.68 for the Washington Street store, and $8,330.81 for the Shawmut Avenue store. The total is $104,716.42. Charged items, in open account, are represented by $23,629.08 at the Portland end, $3,681.71 at the Washington Street store, and $469.37 at the Shawmut Avenue establishment. This makes $27,780.16 in good accounts.

Doubtful accounts amount to $395,848.86 in Maine (partly book items), $63,853.71 at the Washington Street store and $2,061.29 at the Shawmut Avenue store. This is a total of $461,763.86. Notes receivable amount to $16,505.09 in Maine and $1,500 in Boston. This total is $18,005.09. In cash the amounts are $2,293.20 in Maine, $1,353.13 at the Washington Street store and $1,196.98 at the Shawmut Avenue store. The total is $4,848.31; $3,051.31 is in shares of corporations.

In real estate mortgages the amount of assets is $20,000. The value of the Gardiner, Me., building is put at $4,000; the Waterville, Me., store is put at $2,580.46; the Lewiston, Me., building is a fine one and is put at $36,484.24, of which amount $14,700 stands out against it as a loan, making its value on the side of assets $21,784.24. Thus the amount of the apparent assets is $1,886,446.89.

The liabilities contained a number of items less. The direct liabilities of this company in notes payable amount to $962,007.53 at the Eastern end and to $911,705.77 at Boston. The total is $1,873,713.30.

The demand loans amount to $56,000 at Portland and to $107,500 at Boston, a total of $163,400. The open accounts payable are $43,875.13 at Portland and $37,200.56 at Boston, a total of $81,075.69. In checks protested and overdrafts the amounts are $17,143 at Portland and $14,888.43 at Boston, a total of $32,031.43. Thus the amount of direct liabilities is $2,150,220.32. The contingent liabilities are the liabilities on indorsements. These amount to $155,000 at the eastern end and to $11,000 at this end, or a total of $166,000. Thus the total liabilities that can be computed are $2,316,220.42.

The reading of the assets and liabilities was followed by quite a long session, but the business transacted, as this was not a meeting of formality, as it were, was confined to the asking of questions by Mr. Howard and others and the answering of them by the President, Mr. Libby, Mr. Cushing of the Committee of Creditors, the Treasurer, etc.

No blame was attached to the President by any of the speakers as being other than a man of honesty, etc., but some of the speakers said that had the Atkinson Company not combined with the other there would have been no trouble. The President wanted steps taken that the business should be continued, as he said there was an equity.

After some discussion it was moved and unanimously voted that a committee of ten be appointed by the floor to see what steps could be taken for the continuance of the business.

Among the nominees voted in the committee were Messrs. Russell and Hoke of Worcester, Mr. L. Carlton, of Portland, Mr. W. H. Winslow, of Portland, Mr. Thompson & Norris, Brooklyn, and then a motion was unanimously voted that the committee increase its number to ten itself.

MRS. HANCOCK DEAD.

Heart Failure Terminates the Life of the Distinguished General's Venerable Widow.

Mrs. Almira Russell Hancock, widow of General Winfield Scott Hancock, died at the rooms of Captain Eugene Griffin, in "The Gramercy" apartment house at No. 34 Gramercy Park, N. Y., at 4.40 Thursday afternoon. Her death was directly due to heart failure, from which she had been a sufferer for many years. Mrs. Hancock was unconscious for several hours preceding her death. She had been failing for ten days.

Among those present when the end came were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griffin, a niece of the General, and the brother of Mrs. Hancock, Oliver P. Russell, and his wife. The funeral services will be held at the Little Church Around the Corner, in Twenty-ninth street, Saturday morning. The body will be taken to St. Louis and placed in the Russell family vault in that city. The General was buried in Norristown, Pa., his birthplace. He died Feb. 9, 1886, and was buried on the 14th, her birthday.

Mrs. Hancock was in her sixty-second year. She returned last December from an extended tour through Continental Europe, during which she was accompanied by Colonel Barrett and daughter, of Norristown, Pa., her intimate friends. On her return to this country she came to this city and has since lived in "The Gramercy." She remained in Europe thirteen months, where she was received with great consideration.

The widow leaves no children. Two were born to her. Ada, who died at the age of eighteen, and Russell, who died in Clarksdale, Miss., eight years ago at the age of thirty-one. She leaves her residence in Washington and some personal property. A generous fund was raised for her at the time of her husband's death and a further provision of $2,000 in the shape of a pension was paid to her.

Mrs. Hancock was born in St. Louis. She was the daughter of the late John Russell, of that city, a wealthy man. She met Lieutenant Hancock, then attached to the Quartermaster's Department, in 1856, and a marriage was the result. She took the deepest interest in her husband's affairs, and bore many hardships that she might be near him. She never entirely recovered from the shock caused by his death.

MONDAY, APRIL 24, 1893.

Getting Into Deep Waters.

The rumors of Cabinet dissensions are once more in circulation, the Boston Globe this time being responsible for the statement that Secretary Carlisle is strongly inclined "to resign at once." The first report that the President and his official family were rapidly approaching the "rocks of discord," grew out of the intolerant manner in which Mr. Cleveland ignored the wishes of the Cabinet officers in dividing the spoils. The present trouble, however, is of a more serious nature, as it involves practically the repudiation of Secretary Carlisle's "financial policy."

When Secretary Carlisle was first selected as the head of the Treasury Department the Administration papers congratulated the country upon having a man in this important office who "knew all about finance" as it would have a very soothing effect on the business world. Mr. Carlisle has been in office only a few weeks, but the tone of these papers has changed in a remarkable degree. For instance, the New York Times already declares that his policy is "very weak." The Herald likens him to the "man who stood up so very straight that he leaned backward." The Sun says that he is "more timid than was expected." The Evening Post follows in the same line and says that "it would have been better if the Secretary had said nothing until he was prepared to say exactly what he considers to be lawful and what unlawful."

The agitation in business centres has become so great, as a result of the Secretary's announcement that he was about to stop gold payments, it has alarmed the President to such an extent that he has ordered a reversal of the action decided upon by Mr. Carlisle. In this emergency the Globe says that he has turned to Treasurer Jordan for advice thus reversing the policy of the head of the Department on the recommendation of a subordinate. There was nothing left for the Secretary to do but accept his orders, although he is represented to be of the same opinion concerning the gold reserve as when he issued his statement.

The simple fact seems to be that the Administration is now dealing with problems concerning which it knows very little. Of course the statement issued by Secretary Carlisle was sent out with the full knowledge and consent of the President as a feeler. It nearly created a panic in the business world, hence the President has changed his course, but this faltering and unstable policy is not conducive to sound business confidence.

The Protest Increasing.

Mr. E. J. Gibson, the chief of the Washington bureau of the Philadelphia Press, one of the most experienced and able members of the press corps at the national Capital, writes to Saturday's Press that "the arbitrary manner in which President Cleveland defied the law and the Constitution in appointing Mr. Blount without the consent of Congress to proceed as a Special Commissioner armed with powers evidently paramount to those of the American Minister, is still the subject of great criticism. He says that "Representatives and Senators are very much [illegible] their opinion on the subject, but even those of Mr. Cleveland's party who make any pretension to patriotism deny the President's right to make the appointment he did, and condemn the haste with which the Stars and Stripes were lowered from the Government House at Hawaii."

He also says [illegible] one of the most outspoken and honest representatives in this patriotism is Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, who has written a letter from his home in Bangor to his friend in this city in which he expresses his opinion of Mr. Blount's action in his usual vigorous manner. The fact that Minister Stevens was removed from his position from the [illegible] is a thoroughly [illegible] who enjoyed the confidence of the late James G. [illegible] of the ex-Con[illegible] [illegible] and a disappointment to Hawaiian hopes. The people whose interests are so closely knit with our own, struggling to throw off an outworn monarchy, should not be denied the protection of our flag when they ask for it. The "American solution" of the Hawaiian problem requires another flag-raising.

"Raise that flag!"

My Commissioner.

"My Commissioner" Blount appears to be having a fine time in Honolulu where he is an object of much admiration on the part of the royalists who are very profuse in their attentions. They look upon the man who ordered down the Stars and Stripes as their firm friend. A letter to the Boston Herald from Honolulu says:

Commissioner James H. Blount, has his headquarters at the Snow cottage, an annex to the Hawaiian Hotel. This place he has engaged for a month. It is a roomy little villa surrounded by tropical trees and plants, and the suit of rooms occupied by the commissioner and his wife are airy and spacious.

Secretary Mills is also accommodated in the building, so that he can stand between the high commissioner and those outsiders whom that gentleman is not desirous of meeting.

Col. Blount and his wife have been the recipients of wagon loads of flowers, and leis or wreaths have been sent them without number. One morning at least 50 of these circlets were hanging over the balustrade of the veranda, and they were evidently the overflow. All these floral offerings came from the royalists, and it is said before any of them are presented the Kahunas or medicine men offer up incantations urging the deities to convey through the petals of the flowers the "true spirit" to the great master who has come from the President.

George Macfarlane, the proprietor of the Hawaiian Hotel, is a royalist in principle and practice, and he took good care that the Commissioner should not be contaminated, even when at meals. Col. Blount's table is therefore placed separate from the others, and the only table near is that of the British Minister Maj. Wodehouse, who has recently taken up his quarters at the hotel, and who is of course also a good royalist. Although there are seats for six at the table, nobody is seated there except Col. and Mrs. Blount and Secretary Mills, no matter how crowded the dining room is. Indeed, two foreign newspaper correspondents were requested to change their seats in order to give the Commissioner this seclusion.

A Few Reasons Why the Sales of the KINEO STOVES and RANGES are Constantly Increasing.

Because the people know they are the best.
Because of the merits they have, which Other Stoves have not.
Because every desirable feature to be desired is found on them.
Because quality is the true test of cheapness, and the best is the cheapest.
Because they are the richest in design and ornaments of usefulness.
Because our new Coal Grate gives the best satisfaction of any patent grate manufactured.
Because less talk is required to sell them than any other Stove or Range in the market.
Because our Stoves and Ranges are more attractive than others.

MONDAY APRIL 24 1893

Getting Into Deep Waters.

The rumors of Cabinet dissensions are once more in circulation the Boston Globe this time being responsible for the statement that Secretary Carlisle is strongly inclined to resign at once The first report that the President and his official family were rapidly approaching the rocks of discord grew out of the intolerant manner in which Mr Cleveland ignored the wishes of the Cabinet officers in dividing the spoils The present trouble, however is of a more serious nature, as it involves practically the repudiation of Secretary Carlisle's financial policy

When Secretary Carlisle was first selected as the head of the Treasury Department the Administration papers congratulated the country upon having a man in this important office who knew all about finance as it would have a very soothing effect on the business world Mr Carlisle has been in office only a few weeks, but the tone of these papers has changed in a remarkable degree For instance, the New York [illegible] already declares that his policy is very weak The Herald likens him to the man who stood up so very straight that he leaned backward The [illegible] says that he is more timid than was expected The [illegible] follows in the same line and says that it would have been better if the Secretary had said nothing until he was prepared to say exactly what he considers to be lawful and what unlawful

The agitation in business centres has become so great as a result of the Secretary's announcement that he was about to stop gold payments, it has alarmed the President to such an extent that he has ordered a reversal of the action decided upon by Mr Carlisle In this emergency the [illegible] says that he has turned to Treasurer Jordan for advice thus reversing the policy of the head of the Department with the recommendation of a subordinate There was nothing left for the Secretary to do but accept his orders although he is represented to be of the same opinion concerning the gold reserve as when he issued his statement

The simple fact seems to be that the Administration is now dealing with problems concerning which it knows very little Of course the statement issued by Secretary Carlisle was sent out with the full knowledge and consent of the President It was a feeler It nearly created a panic in the business world hence the President has changed his course but this faltering and unstable policy is not conducive to [illegible] business confidence

Mr [illegible], the chief of the Washington bureau of the Philadelphia Press and one of the most experienced and able members of the press corps at the national capital writes to Saturday [illegible] that the arbitrary manner in which President Cleveland defied the law and the Constitution in appointing Mr Blount without the consent of Congress to proceed as a special Commissioner armed with powers evidently paramount to those of the American Minister is still the subject of great criticism He says that Representatives and Senators are very much divided in their opinion on the subject but even those of Mr Cleveland's party who make any pretension to patriotism deny the President's right to make the appointment he did, and condemn the haste with which the Stars and Stripes were lowered from the Government House at [illegible]

[illegible] One of the most outspoken and earnest Representatives in his patriotism is Congressman Boutelle, of Maine who has written a letter from his home in Bangor to a friend in this city in which he expresses his opinion of Mr Blount's action in his usual vigorous manner The fact that Minister Stevens was appointed to his position from the State of Maine and is a thoroughly patriotic American who enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the late JAMES G BLAINE makes the act of the ex Confederate from Georgia especially repulsive to the staunch Americans of New England After quoting extensively from the letter referred to, Mr Gibson [illegible] Mr Boutelle's patriotism is [illegible] by scores of his colleagues

Maine Men at the Front

There can not but be an inspiration in the motto of our noble State Dirigo that sends the sons of Maine to the front in the promotion of good works wherever they may be Among the recent examples of this characteristic we find the following in a recent issue of the Christian Union, which will be read with interest by the many friends of Dr Smyth in this his former field of labor

The State of Connecticut bids fair to be a model state in its laws concerning pool selling The Rev Newman Smyth of New Haven and a young lawyer of that city—Mr [illegible] we believe is his name—became impressed with the terrible evil being done to the young men of that city by the pool room took the matter to the Legislature of the State, and after a long and hard campaign have won the first part of what promises to be a great victory By an overwhelming majority, the lower house of the Legislature has passed a law making all pool selling and book making illegal This applies not only to the lower varieties of the evil, but also to such as has been common on the aristocratic race courses like the Charter Oak Course near Hartford The first movement of Dr Smyth and his colleague was to excite public sentiment to demand the reform The churches responded and many of them, even on the Sabbath day passed resolutions asking their representatives to vote to make the vice illegal

More has been accomplished than was expected inasmuch as it was supposed that the Legislature would draw the line at the respectable fair-grounds and race-courses but the public sentiment ran away with the leaders It now remains to be seen whether the Senate of the State will co-operate with the members of the lower House if they do—and how can they dare to do otherwise?—Connecticut once more will have some right to its old name of 'The Land of Steady Habits' Dr Smyth deserves the thanks, not only of all who are interested in the moral welfare of that State, but, still more, all who have the slightest interest in the welfare of Yale University He has done more for that university by his courageous and persistent warfare against this evil than if he had put into the hands of its President a half million dollars for the increase of its endowment

"A Shock to American Patriotism."

A Senator having been quoted as saying that he was convinced of Secretary Gresham's 'firm determination to secure an American solution' of the Hawaiian problem," the New York World asks "What is an American solution," and after stating its opinion of what it is not, that paper says:

> It lies rather in the direction of a strong Protectorate, extending and insuring the paramount and permanent American influence in Hawaii. This is due to the preponderance of American interests in the islands. It is required by their relations to our Pacific coast and our Eastern trade. It is made proper by the desire of their inhabitants.
> The solution was half reached when the American flag was raised over the Hawaiian Capital at the request of the Provincial Government. The lowering of the flag by order of a Commissioner whose discretionary power far exceeds his discretion, was a shock to American patriotism and a disappointment to Hawaiian hopes. The people whose interests are so closely knit with our own, struggling to throw off an outworn monarchy, should not be denied the protection of our flag when they ask for it. The "American solution" of the Hawaiian problem requires another flag-raising

"Raise that flag"

My Commissioner.

"My Commissioner" Blount appears to be having a fine time in Honolulu where he is an object of much admiration on the part of the royalists who are very profuse in their attentions. They look upon the man who ordered down the Stars and Stripes as their firm friend A letter to the Boston Herald from Honolulu says

Commissioner James H Blount, has his headquarters at the Snow cottage, an annex to the Hawaiian Hotel This place he has engaged for a month It is a roomy little villa surrounded by tropical trees and plants, and the suit of rooms occupied by the commissioner and his wife are airy and spacious

Secretary Mills is also accommodated in the building so that he can stand between the high commissioner and those outsiders whom that gentleman is not desirous of meeting

Col Blount and his wife have been the recipients of wagon loads of flowers, and leis or wreaths have been sent them without number One morning at least 50 of these circlets were hanging over the balustrade of the veranda, and they were evidently the overflow All these floral offerings came from the royalists, and it is said before any of them are presented the kahunas or medicine men offer up incantations urging the deities to convey through the petals of the flowers the "true spirit" to the great master who has come from the President

George Macfarlane, the proprietor of the Hawaiian Hotel, is a royalist in principle and practice, and he took good care that the Commissioner should not be contaminated even when at meals Col Blount's table is therefore placed separate from the others, and the only table near is that of the British Minister Maj Wodehouse, who has recently taken up his quarters at the hotel and who is of course also a good royalist Although there are seats for six at the table nobody is seated there except Col and Mrs Blount and Secretary Mills, no matter how crowded the dining room is Indeed, two foreign newspaper correspondents were requested to change their seats in order to give the Commissioner this seclusion

Governor of Arkansas Speaks Decidedly on Murders by Mobs.

LITTLE ROCK, April 22. Relative to the lynching at Morrellton, Governor Fishback has addressed the following communication to Prosecuting Attorney Davis: "Upon my return from Richmond yesterday I received information that a mob had murdered Flanagan Thornton while in custody of the state at Morrellton. It is, of course, unnecessary to say to you that these men were guilty of murder, and whether high or low should be punished accordingly, or that you owe it to the good people of Conway county as well as to the good people of the State of Arkansas who do not deserve the disgrace which this atrocity brings to them to see that these men are brought to justice.

"But I write to say if you need any assistance at the command of the executive, do not hesitate to invoke it. These mob murderers must be taught that in Arkansas they will be punished as any other murderers."

FAIR

WASHINGTON, April 23, 8 P. M.

Indications.

Local Forecast.

BOSTON, April 23. For New England Monday: Fair weather, slightly warmer by the afternoon, westerly winds, much warmer Tuesday, probably fair.

A GRAND ARRAY.

The Great Warships Sail for New York To-day.

Large Crowds Arrive from Miles to See Display.

Courtesies Exchanged at Hampton Roads Sunday.

FORT MONROE, Va., April 22. Secretary Herbert's expected arrival early this morning put every ship in the roads on the lookout for the Dolphin and her distinguished passenger. The day was the 25th anniversary of the marriage of the King and Queen of Italy. In honor of this event every warship here was dressed this morning in gala array and ran up the green and yellow colors of King Humbert, and as eight bells simultaneously struck on all ships cannonading commenced that continued incessantly for ten minutes.

Through the lines of war ships the Dolphin came shortly after 12 and as she reached the beam of the flagship Blake, the American ensign was broken out by the Englishman and the Secretary's salute of 17 guns fired. The Dolphin returned it as she steamed slowly along. Gliding by the Baltimore, San Francisco, Newark, Philadelphia and Chicago, she was saluted by heavy firing, the marines being drawn up at present arms, and all the officers standing on the quarter deck uncovered and the bands playing "Hail Columbia."

The Caravels

which leave to-morrow morning for New York have been surrounded to-day with a fleet of little boats. A heavy sea made it an exceedingly difficult and venturesome feat to climb up the sides of the Santa Maria, but Captain Concasha had no reason to complain of lack of visitors. He speaks English excellently and a thousand times a day has to tell fair visitors how he managed to live in the doll house which Columbus called a cabin. Girls peer into the wardrobe, handle the ancient inkstand and hour-glass, and gaze out upon the sea through the curious little windows.

Twenty-seven Ships to Sail To-day.

FORT MONROE, Va., April 23. Twenty-seven ships of war will sail from here at 9 to-morrow for New York. At that hour the tide will be running out to sea and they will have to swing their massive hulls that the sharp prows may be pointed toward the ocean. This is a matter of no small importance as an attempt to turn all the ships at once would be a most dangerous experiment.

There was no rest for Admiral Gherardi to-day. Signal flags were running up and down from the yards of the Philadelphia and the blue coated messengers were hurrying in plunging launches from ship to ship.

The typewriter in the admiral's office has been going at a rapid pace. Everybody here is naturally hoping that the weather in New York will be fair, but the seasoned old salts who know all about the weather shake their heads dubiously.

The forbidding weather to-day was unfortunate for the crowds who with the earliest morning boats began to swell the already too numerous colony here. The steamers from Washington, Norfolk and Baltimore were loaded with passengers and incoming trains bore their quota of sight-seers. Several craft in Norfolk harbor seemed to have been utilized to carry people who wanted to get a Final Look at the Men-of-War.

The ships were to-day provisioned for a cruise and the chronometers were set to Washington time, sent from Washington observatory by telegraph. Thousands of curious visitors made the circuit of the fleet. On the Washington boat came United Senators Butler, Gray, and Gibson and Representative McMillin, of Tennessee. Arrangements were made for these gentlemen to go with the fleet to New York and San Francisco. Representative Outhwaite, of Ohio, will go on the Philadelphia.

Invitations were also extended to a number of other Senators and Representatives, but as they had not appeared up to this evening, the commanders of the ships began to extend invitations to their friends. Nearly every ship will have a number of civilians and correspondents. The voyage is likely to be made with Considerable Discomfort.

The correspondents have been told that they will have to content themselves with mattresses under the ward room tables. Secretary Herbert, in response to an invitation from Admiral Hopkins of the English man-of-war Blake, attended church service on the Blake this morning. The service was conducted by the English chaplain. Returning to the Dolphin the Secretary entertained some of his friends at luncheon.

With the arrival of three Brazilian ships late this evening, the entire foreign contingent is present or accounted for except the Russian Vice-Admiral. United States Senators Hale and Frye will accompany the fleet to New York.

Training Ship Enterprise Sails for New York.

BOSTON, April 22. The training ship Enterprise, J. F. Merry commanding, sailed this afternoon from her anchorage off the navy yard for New York, where she will participate in the Columbian review on Thursday next.

Great Demand for Steamers for Naval Review Day.

NEW YORK, April 22. Nearly every steamboat in New York from the smallest tug to the largest excursion steamer has been chartered for the naval parade. The tug owners are getting as high as $300 for one boat for the day of the review. Tugs and steamers are coming from Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore. A party of gentlemen from New Haven has chartered the steamboat Watch Hill. The Wrestler and Spray of New Bedford will be in the parade.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

President Cleveland Makes a Statement Regarding the Situation.

WASHINGTON, April 23. To a representative of the United Press, the President to-night said:

"The inclination on the part of the public to accept newspaper reports concerning the intentions of those charged with the management of our national finances seems to justify my emphatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes except in gold has at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the Secretary of the Treasury, or any other member of the present administration.

"The President and cabinet are absolutely harmonious in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to maintain the public credit, keep the public faith and preserve the parity between gold and silver, and between all of the government. Of course perplexity and difficulties have grown out of the unfortunate financial policy we found in vogue and embarassments have arisen from ill-advised financial legislation confronting us at every turn.

"With cheerful confidence among the people and a patriotic disposition to coöperate, the threatened danger will be avoided, pending a legislative return to a better and sounder financial plan. The strong credit of the country is still unimpaired and the good sense of our people which has never failed in time of need is at hand to save us from disaster."

A FIREMAN KILLED

And Others Injured by a Falling Wall.

MONTREAL, April 23. Bowen and Company's wholesale liquor establishment was damaged $100,000 by fire early this morning. A falling wall killed one fireman and severely injured two others.

Orange Riot in Belfast—Fearful Disorder.

LONDON, April 23. Orange riots broke out in Belfast last night and continued until late this morning. Fighting was especially severe in the notorious Shank Hill district. At midnight an Orange mob attacked a tavern kept by a Roman Catholic, and smashed in the windows and doors, looted the store-rooms and liquor vault, drove out the family and endeavored to burn the building.

The police were out in force before they could get the fire well started and drove the mob off and extinguished the flames. The rioters tried to invade the Roman quarters, where nationalists were celebrating the second reading of the Home rule bill. A strong line of policemen held them back. A crowd of nationalists gathered on the other side of the line and the two parties over the heads of the constables. The conflict became hot eventually and the police were obliged to strike out on both sides with clubs and drive back the two mobs by repeated charges. They were finally dispersed.

"Was everything they held dear" he asked, "to be abandoned to the command of the dictator, William E. Gladstone?" The speaker was interrupted by groans for Gladstone and cries of "Traitor" and "Barrabas." The Duke proceeded to say that the verdict still remained with the British people who could be trusted to finally reject the abhorent measure. Resolutions were adopted by the meeting denouncing Irish Home Rule.

FEROCIOUS PIRATES CAPTURED.

A Desperate Battle in Which Many Were Killed.

Monks Fought Side by Side With the Buccaneers.

Formidable Band Has Been Terror on the High Seas.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22. The steamer Belgic, which arrived at midnight last night, brought about 500 Chinese. Two hundred and twenty of them are for the World's Fair Chinese village, 160 for Havana, 30 for Panama, and the remainder for this city and along the coast.

The Belgic brings news of the capture recently near Taichow Island by a war junk disguised as a merchantman, of a formidable band of pirates, who for the past eight or nine months had made themselves, by their ferocity and bloodthirstiness, the terror of all junks trading between Ninghpo, Taichow and Wenchow.

Of the 50 pirates on board the buccaneering craft, only 11 men were captured alive, the remainder being killed in a desperate attempt to repulse the attack of the sailors on board the war junk, who, though inferior in numbers to the pirates, pluckily attacked the enemy and finally gained a bloody victory, losing 25 of their 40 fighting men on board, including the captain and the second officer of the war junk.

A curious incident in connection with the case is the capture or death of 13 Buddhist monks, who were found fighting side by side with the pirates, and proved to be the most desperate men in the lot.

These monks are very probably the same band that made a raid upon a nunnery near Tingpai in December last and carried away the youngest and prettiest of the votaries, gagging the ugly ones in a cruel manner and throwing them under the great altar, where the poor creatures were found two days afterward, nearly famished.

DASTARDLY ACTS.

Strikers Set Fire in Hull and Exult in the Destruction.

LONDON, April 23. Ten acres of timber at Victoria dock, in Hull, are ablaze. The loss will be more than $100,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by striking dockers.

The fire is extending from the timber yard and threatens to destroy the warehouses near by. The Citadel Hotel has been burned. All the telegraph wires in the district are down and the railway iron is melted. The timber yard in which the fire was set is owned by the Wade Company who employ non-union men.

Delighted With the Fire.

A large section of the crowd of spectators made no concealment of their delight at the progress of the fire. They threw stones and other missiles at the soldiers and police helping the firemen to extinguish the flames. Some even cut the hose pipes. At last reports a detachment of dragoons protected those fighting the fire. The Wade Company, proprietors of the burned timber yard, had headed the signers of a circular giving notice to striking deal carriers that unless they resumed work their places would be filled with other men.

All the company's timber was consumed. Much other timber was threatened with destruction. The total value of timber and other property now in danger is 1,000,000 pounds.

Three other fires were started by incendiaries in Hull this evening, but all were discovered before they got under headway and were extinguished.

The Plymouth was in tow of the ocean tug L. Luckenback and when it became apparent that the barge could not stand the heavy sea an attempt was made by the tug to rescue the captain and crew. A high sea was running which made it impossible to get near the barge and just as she foundered the captain and one man jumped into the sea and were picked up by the tug. The captain's wife and two men, not being able to swim, were drowned.

FIGHT WITH AN UGLY MOB.

Police of Hull, England, Have Desperate Battle with Strikers.

Hand to Hand Conflict with Thousands of the Roughs.

The Whole Place in an Uproar During the Conflict.

LONDON, April 22. The police in Hull arrested a drunken docker last evening. A mob of strikers stopped them on the way to the station. The police fought them off and sent for reinforcements. When the reinforcements arrived more than 2000 men had gathered, armed with stones, clubs, and a few revolvers. The police drew their batons and clubbing right and left, divided the mob so that three officers with the prisoner could proceed to the station.

After the drunken striker had been removed the rioters charged the police repeatedly. They were forced back by hand to hand fighting and driven into side streets where they rallied again to the attack. More police were called out and more strikers were attracted by the uproar. The police forced the men gradually into the immediate neighborhood of the docks. The whole district was in an uproar. The struggle was carried into every street and alley way. Dockers who had gone to bed from their houses to join in the fight. Windows were smashed and doors battered down. At the dry pool dock the mob tried to storm the steamer Righi. Fifty police defended it for forty minutes and then with the aid of thirty more, put the rioters to flight. The fighting lasted well into this morning. Only six strikers were arrested.

If this is true the Safe Cure corporation will be called upon to meet payment. This will be resisted by the company.

The first "popular" concert to be given by Miss Dora Wiley will occur at the Opera House on Monday evening, May 1st. Among those who will take part are three of her pupils, Mrs. W. A. Nelson, Mrs. Grace Park Hexter and Mr. Harry Pote, and there will be other good talent.

An axle on one of the street cars broke Saturday evening on Oak street and it was necessary for a time to make a transfer around the car, which stopped where the accident occurred, and it was successfully accomplished. A new truck was placed in position and the car then resumed service after the least possible delay.

One of the oldest inhabitants of the city has passed away in the person of Mrs. Ellen Gillogley, widow of James Gillogley. She was born in Ireland, January 1, 1805 and came to this city in 1847. She leaves to mourn her loss four daughters, Mrs. T. Gallagher, Mrs. Charles Dolan, Mrs. Felix Quinn and Mrs. Freeman Landers.

A number of crews of river drivers have left in the past week for the lumbering regions to get ready to start the logs towards their destination. The lakes, ponds and streams are still ice bound, as a general thing, but it will not be long before the drives can be begun, although it will be rather later than usual. There was a large cut during the winter and if all the logs reach the market there will probably not be much of a scarcity at least.

The reception to be tendered the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association to-morrow evening will no doubt be the largest of the season. Nearly six hundred invitations have been issued, and it is safe to say that a large audience will be present to listen to the beautiful music of Pullen's Orchestra, the members of which have so kindly volunteered their services. The reception will be from 7.30 to 10. The concert will be in the hall and refreshments will be served at the close of the programme.

Vesper Service.

A vesper service was held last evening at 7.30 o'clock at the Unitarian church and there was a large attendance. The following programme was given with excellent effect: Organ voluntary, Miss Silsby; "'Tis Night," choir and violin obligato by Mr. H. M. Pullen; prayer, by the pastor, Rev S. C. Beach; "With Silence," choir and Mr. Pullen; reading of scripture, Rev. Mr. Beach; solo, "All As God Wills," Miss Jewell; reading, Rev. Mr. Beach; solo, "O, Salutaris," Mrs. Potter; address, Rev. Mr. Beach; "Had I the Wings of a Dove," choir; hymn, choir and congregation; benediction, Rev. Mr. Beach.

The selection "With Silence," for the quartette and violin, was composed by Miss Silsby, the words being by Whittier, and is another evidence of her marked talent in musical composition. It was heard with much pleasure by the audience.

High School-Y. M. C. A. Field Day.

The field day sports on May 20th to be held by the High School Athletic Association to determine who shall represent the school at the meet of the Maine Interscholastic Amateur Athletic Association at Augusta in June, will be enlivened by the competition of the athletes from the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium, the High School scholars having decided to extend the entries to the Y. M. C. A. in order that there might be more keen competition and an increased number in each event to be contested.

There ought and doubtless will be a goodly number to participate in the field day, as the entire strength of the school should be brought out in order that the team may fully represent its athletic ability. Now that the High school has joined the association, its initial try for the championship and prizes should mean business. Regular training and a large team are what will accomplish the desired results.

Steamer Lewiston.

Steamer Lewiston of the Boston & Bangor Steamship Company, made her first arrival here for the season shortly before two o'clock yesterday, having been delayed by the storm from leaving Boston until Saturday. She had a fairly pleasant and uneventful run and brought a good consignment of freight. She is officered as follows: Captain, Mark Ingraham; first officer, James Tucker; second officer, G. G. Williams; first pilot, Captain E. W. Curtis; second pilot, Addison Shute; engineer, William F. Fox; assistant engineer, Lawrence Flynn; purser, A. H. Hanscom; freight clerk, Frank Pierce; baggage master, C. A. Higgins; quartermaster, A. F. Holden; bow lookout, Thomas Flannagan; watchman, James Miller.

Memorial Day Services.

The Memorial Day services will this year, as last, be held at The Norombega in the evening instead of at Mt. Hope in the afternoon as has been the custom until last year. The change was so favorably received that it was decided to have the arrangement in force again this year. In the forenoon the graves of the soldiers and sailors at Mt. Hope, Mt. Pleasant and Brewer will be decorated by the G. A. R. veterans and the exercises will occur in the evening. There will be several local speakers, who have not yet been chosen, and music, making an appropriate and interesting programme.

More Salmon.

Mr. George T. Thatcher caught a fine 22 pound salmon on Saturday forenoon, it being the third fish captured this year. Now that the fishing has begun so well the fishermen are expecting some excellent sport and as the weather grows warmer the number of sportsmen will increase. It has been rather cold work fishing thus far. The fishermen from abroad are contemplating an early visit to the salmon pool.

Three fish were caught yesterday, one by Mr. Foster and two by Mr. George Libby, one of them weighing 2[illegible] pounds.

Municipal Court.

Timothy Looney, Bangor, and William Thompson, of Portland, for drunkenness, $3 and costs; each committed.

William Nolan, Bangor, same offence, 30 days in jail.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Hustler.

"The Hustler," the well known farce comedy, returned to the Opera House Saturday night and was greeted by a large audience. Although not as strong in talent as last year, its rollicking fun caused considerable laughter and the dances and musical numbers were lively. Mr. Marion, Mr. Watson, Mr. Le Mack and Mr. Mills were the principal enliveners.

At City Hall.

The Daniels Specialty Company's entertainments Saturday afternoon and evening at City Hall were as usual largely attended and successful. The company will stay at the same place another week and continue its pleasing performances. The low rate of admission places these entertainments within reach of all.

The Old Homestead.

Denman Thompson and his original company will present "The Old Homestead" at the Opera House this and to-morrow evenings. As the capacity of the theatre will be taken on both occasions the importance of securing seats at once by those who have neglected it will readily be seen.

Notes.

Next Friday evening, Charles Dickson, the comedian, and an excellent company, will present Mrs. Pacheco's successful comedy, "Incog," at the Opera House.

An "Old Homestead" special will be run from Old Town to-morrow night.

Early bookings at the Opera House include the following: "McCarthy's Mishaps," Barlow Brothers Minstrels, Nellie McHenry in "A Night at the Circus," "A Fair Rebel," John L. Sullivan, "The County Fair," and the Manola-Mason Company.

A Successful Enterprise.

One year ago Mr. C. W. Morse came here from Newburg, obtained a license as an auctioneer, and entered into the business of buying and selling horses, intending if feasible, to hold regular weekly sales. On the 16th of April of last year he held his first auction, and though entirely new to the business, at once established his capacity and his business which has been steady and profitable during the year that is past. A great element in his success is his thorough knowledge of and love for horses, and no horse passes under his hammer without his being familiar to him in name, age and pedigree, weight, character and soundness, and he warrants fully every horse sold to be what he is represented to be, after full trial, or money refunded. His fair dealing has won for him lots of customers and an excellent reputation.

His business has been so firmly established, that as has been before announced in THE WHIG, Mr. Morse has purchased the William Engel house, on French street and removed his family to this city, which will be their future home, and the Bangor Horse Mart has become an established fact. Not only does Mr. Morse conduct his sale of horses here, but his services are called into demand elsewhere and on Friday last he held the biggest sale of horses ever held in Eastern Maine, if not in the State, for Mr. Mark McPheters, of Shirley, Piscataquis county, the great and widely known lumberman, who disposed of his surplus horses and oxen which he used in hauling his cut of about nine million feet of logs the past winter. Mr. McPheters also owns and runs a veneer mill, the Shirley House and a stable at Shirley.

Mr. Morse sold for him on Friday 43 horses and six oxen at the round sum of $5,125.50. They were sold in various lots to go to Sangerville, Dexter, Brighton, Wellington, Foxcroft, Greenville, Shirley, Pittsfield, Parkman, Abbott, Ripley, Kingsbury and Monson. The largest sale was to Mr. Thompson, of Pittsfield, who purchased six at a total sum of $948.

Mr. Morse is to be congratulated upon his success. He expects to hold another sale here next Saturday, for which he has some fine horses.

A MURDER IN WORCESTER.

A Foreigner Stabbed in a Drunken Fight.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 23. A murder was committed at 10.30 this evening in a block on Milton street, at the north end. The building has about 25 tenements mostly occupied by Swedes and Fins, none of whom talk English. The victim was Matt Jansen, a wire drawer employed by the Washburn & Moen Co. aged 25. He was stabbed in the neck, arm and face by Simon Alansen, a laborer in the wire mill. The latter escaped. Both are Finns. The murder is supposed to be the result of a drunken fight.

A Strange Superstition

In regard to the habit of partridges flying into civilization and a popular superstition regarding them an Augusta man says One flew on our premises and was captured Then came up the question whether we should kill the bird or allow it to live At that time there was a general superstition that if a partridge came to a house where a sick person lay and the bird was killed and the sick person ate the broth it would effect a cure There was a sick girl at our house and the doctor had given up her case as hopeless

"Some of the family said kill the partridge and give the sick girl the broth. But the sick girl and others were for permitting the partridge to live. We were equally divided and agreed to let one of the neighbors whom we saw coming to the house decide whether the partridge should be killed or not He said kill it, and we did and the sick girl ate the broth and got well" – Philadelphia Times

Weapons of a Kindly Woman.

A regard for others' feelings and a gentle though not fulsome flattery that stimulates rather than inflates are the weapons which, when used by a clever, kindly woman, make her a power among any set in which she chooses to move, though never for one moment does she give any evidence that she is aware of the influence she wields through the all conquering scepter of her own gracious womanhood.—Philadelphia Times.

Long Waits.

Salesman (great store)—This coat fits your little girl nicely.

Lady (thinking of next season)—Yes, it does now, but I think we'd better take a size larger.

Little Girl—Oh, yes, I forgot. We have to wait for our change.—Good News.

CHILDREN CRY FOR PITCHER'S CASTORIA

GREATEST REMEDY DISCOVERED.
Fogg's "G—M" Hoof Ointment.

HE BROKE THE BANK.

"Billy" Deutsch, the Plunger of Monte Carlo

This man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo is penniless, and of course the woman who broke the man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo is not with him She, made famous by this exploit, is a star attraction in a concert hall in New York City. He, with broken constitution, is on the way to Colorado, where he hopes either to be cured of consumption or to die Friends, an insignificant remnant out of the multitude he called by that name, are paying his bills for him

A few years ago everybody who was anybody in New York knew Billy Deutsch, the man who was the talk of London, Paris, Monte Carlo, and Gotham, the man who was the star handler of cards and coin the world over

There are many people in Chicago and more in New York who remember the last time he came back from Europe with nearly one million dollars in his pocket, with his horses, his carriages, his servants, his clothes and his unlimited credit He cavorted about New York dressed in the latest styles, with his black mustache fancifully curled, his hair plastered close to his head, bowing to more men than any other man in New York

The Billy Deutsch of to-day is another figure A small man, he is now emaciated, with the luster gone from the eyes and the once jauntily curled mustache drooping The face has its pallor intensified by the small red spots just below the high cheek-bones The little figure, dressed in a black frock coat, much too large for it, the loud striped pantaloons the only outward indication remaining of the sport, stops every few minutes and places slender fingers against the chest as if hoping to thrust back the tearing cough that agitates him into complete exhaustion

But there is another and most pitiable indication of the plunger He talks of nothing else He recounts, on the verge of the grave, with as much evident pride the manner in which his millions were squandered as the way in which they were gained The most potential factor in his financial downfall, the woman he alludes to as merely a pleasant passing incident a little more to be considered perhaps, than his wine suppers, a little less than his horse and dog carts As he talks between coughing spells he reminds one of that company of soldiers famed in verse which, when their comrades were falling like the leaves of autumn from a fever epidemic, sang with brimming goblets in their hands "Here's to the next who dies"

Forty nine years ago William H Deutsch was born in the old First Ward in New York City For a time he was successful in this country and Europe as a theatrical manager After managing Billy Florence and his wife he went to Europe with $125 000 and became a director in many concerns there Of his gambling operations he said at the Auditorium "I landed in Paris in 1881 I was introduced into the Franco-American Club and was initiated into the bewitching game of baccarat which I played with varying success but never with the idea of steady playing as I was forced to travel all over Europe on business It was in 1884 while in Paris that I had an inspiration that I could win I felt this inspiration because my small stakes invariably brought me large winnings If I played 100 francs I won 4 000 or [illegible]000 I began to risk all my winnings playing the dealer's money and taking out my own after the first winning Luck was with me I won every time I played In three months I won $125 000 With that money I traveled through Europe with my horses and servants buying everything in sight

"One night in Vienna I bought half the seating space in a music hall that was twice as large as—well say Koster & Bial's in New York Then I invited the whole house to drink with me They drank I paid $2 800 for my fun I got to Paris in the spring of 1885 on borrowed money I entered into a scheme with a New York capitalist and floated $10 000 000 in railroad bonds My commission put me on my feet I gambled again and lost my money On the night of July 25 1885, I was in Monte Carlo with $50—all I had I got dinner, and with the remaining $30 tried my chance at the game In an hour I lost every penny Just as I quit Lorillard Spencer and John Garcia came in We sat down to a game of whist I won 30 francs from them, playing on credit I owed for drinks and cigars and threw down a 10 franc piece I put the 5 franc piece change in my overcoat pocket I threw down the remaining 20 francs on the table and lost them I went out broke to go home In buttoning up my overcoat I felt the 5 franc piece

"I went back and threw the piece on the table Won Let it be Won again Sometimes I would let two or three deals go by Every time I played I won His pale face had grown red with excitement and a prolonged coughing spell ensued "And generally I played my whole pile I quit $400,000 winner and the bank closed down

"I went to Paris Played at the Franco American Club won again Sailed for America with $600 000 in my pocket so to speak When I went back to France I took only $400 000 with me, having lost $200,000 in Wall street and on dinners and friends I was broke again in France in less than six months My credit was good, but I was eventually forced to the wall When that time came I simply wrote an article for a Paris newspaper This is what I said Having neither the time nor inclination to bid each individual friend and creditor good by please tell them for me that if they desire to know anything of me or my finances they can write to me at the Hoffman House in New York '

"That was the cheekiest thing I ever did I owe in Paris now 60 000 francs, and almost that amount is owed to me by friends Friends? Do you know that those I did the most for will do nothing for me now? While sick and penniless in the hospitals of New York I wrote fifty bequests to people for money owed me, aggregating several thousand dollars I got $50 The few friends who are standing by me now never had more from me than champagne suppers and good times I have won and lost all told, $2 000 000

USE LEON'S SARSAPARILLA, "THE KIND THAT NEVER FAILS.

GIVES GREAT RESULTS.
Fogg's "G—M" Liniment for Sprains and Rheumatism.

I have not used all of one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until, last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first day's use have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

IS CHARMED BY A BAT

Had a Narrow Escape

He looked as if he wanted to talk to me I let him It may not have been quite the proper thing to do, but he looked weather-beaten, travel worn, and sad, and as if he knew all about vampires—either human ones or of this kind

I had just turned away from a cage which had a vampire bat It had had a horrible fascination for me It was all I could do to turn away from it So when I caught his communicative expression I felt that he had something to tell I wanted to hear it And, anyway, I don't suppose we are going to go through all this glorious World's Fair and at all times wait for introductions to people whose elbows we happen to bump He said

"That thing seems to hold you there I don't wonder at it Instead of being a myth as many suppose, these vampire bats are a most horrible reality I've had my experience with one of them It was down in Venezuela These devilish imps feed on human blood if they can get it They come in the still of the night The life of their victim, if it happens to be a child or a weak man or woman would be drawn away, and the victim would never waken The point of attack is the toe or the cheek They prefer the toe In that country people sleep in hammocks There is generally a netting over the hammock, but this and the other covering will get misplaced during sleep and the vampire has easy work In some way I don't know how, they manage to make a lance like gash and then they gently very gently, suck the blood It is not very long before weakness begins and the victim has not the strength to awaken

Tells his Experience

"As I say, I've had my experience I awakened one morning and was so exhausted for some reason that I could not move I finally managed to raise my head, and then I saw that my foot was exposed and that it was bathed in blood It was a sickening sight in itself I found afterward this little gash across the end of my toe The diable—as the natives call them—had probably more than gorged himself and had not been at all particular about scattering my life blood around promiscuously I was very weak for days This is not a nice story to tell, but you seemed so interested in studying this one that I thought perhaps you would like to hear a true story

I've been away from this country for years and have seen wonderful things, but nothing so wonderful as this great fair And you are the first American I have talked to My words come slowly, but I will get accustomed to them again in a day or two

He touched his hat and walked on His words had come slowly, but plenty fast enough to leave an indelible picture on my mind I could not forget it and last night I fought vampire bats all night—in my dreams

Nothing can be said in favor of the best medicine in the world that may not be said of the most worthless In one case, it's true, in the other, it isn't,—but how can you distinguish?

Judge by what is done There's only one blood purifier that's guaranteed It's Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and this is what is done with it, if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you get your money back Isn't it likely to be the best?

All the year round, as well at one time as another, it cleanses and purifies the system All blood-poisons must go For Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, or any blood taint or disorder, it is an unequaled remedy

It's the cheapest, too With this, you pay only for the good you get

And nothing else is "just as good" It may be better—for the dealer But he isn't the one that's to be helped.
